WHY TUNISIA?

- Tunisia is emerging as one of the major production sites of clothing products in the Euro-Mediterranean zone. It’s the sixth largest supplier of textile to Europe; more than 95% of Tunisian exports go to Europe. In 2018, France, Italy, and Germany took 80% of all Tunisian exports.

- Being among the most competitive economies in Africa and the Arab world, the Tunisian economy offers businesses an environment of higher quality than those found in main competing countries.

- The Textile & Clothing sector is positioned as a pillar of Tunisian industry and retains a prominent place in the national economy and maintains a strong contribution to the socio-economic balances of Tunisia.

“As for external trade, the textile and clothing sector continues to be characterized by a strong dependence on foreign markets because foreign markets provide supplies of raw materials and capital goods needed for production and the marketing of its products. The low level of integration in the foreign market which is the result of the unavailability of local raw materials is explained by a considerable flow of imports of intermediate products, such as cotton, yarn, and textile fabrics as well as the Tunisian Textile and Clothing sector purchase of articles for final consumption.”
